GRADE 6 TEACHER

BACKGROUND:

B.S., Psychology, Yale University

WHY SHE LOVES ST. BENEDICT ELEMENTARY:

"As a teacher at St. Benedict Elementary, I have the privilege of celebrating the good, the true, and the beautiful every school day. Our students come to love goodness by encountering the inspiring stories of saints and other historical heroes. They learn that each of us, even the youngest, is called to a life of heroic virtue. We strive to grow in holiness together through regular prayer, weekly Mass, and other liturgical celebrations. At St. Benedict Elementary, we affirm that truth exists and we can know it.

Through our rigorous curriculum, our students enjoy the wisdom of the ancients, of medieval scholars, and of our founding fathers. They are then challenged to participate in our great intellectual tradition through careful thought, clear writing, and worthy speech. The fabric of our school day is richly woven with beautiful art, music, and poetry. Our carefully planned curriculum helps students to better love both the natural world and the great works of mankind. When we admire what is beautiful in our world, we see joy, wonder, and gratitude grow in the hearts and smiles of both students and staff."